

Varsity marks 52nd graduation with 15 graduands from the Department of Library and Information Science

Chancellor, Dr. Vijoo Rattansi awards a PhD to a graduate. Looking on is (Left) Prof. Peter Mbithi, Vice-Chancellor designate, Dr. Idle Farah, Chairman of Council and Prof. George Magoha, Vice-Chancellor.

8, 803 graduands have been conferred and awarded with degrees and diplomas at the University of Nairobi's 52nd graduation ceremony by the Chancellor, Dr. Vijoo Rattansi who was also conferred with honorary degree in humane letters. Royal Media Group Chairman, Samuel Macharia was also conferred with doctor of letters. During the ceremony, a record 104 PhDs were conferred bringing the total PhDs awarded by University this year to 123.

During this auspicious occasion, 15 graduands conferred with the Master of Library and Information Science degree were from the Department of Library and Information Science. Head of Department, Library and Information Science Dr. Dorothy Njiraine thanked and wished the graduands a prosperous career in the information profession.

