

The University of Nairobi Tops Higher Education & Research Institutions in Webometrics Ranking

The University of Nairobi is the top leading higher education and research institution nationally (Kenya) and regionally (East Africa) in Webometrics ranking. In Africa and globally, the UoN is among the top ranked elite institutions. On a related development, the University of Nairobi Digital Repository ranked 4th in Africa in the January Edition 2017, ranking web of repositories.

Admissions open for full-time; part-time; and open, distance and electronic learning mode.

Apply for April, May, August, September and December intake through the website of the University of Nairobi or Department of Library and Information Science.